

Every morning I wake up hungry, starving, cold and worn down is how I start every-day. But I have got to get to India to get to the monks. That way I can learn about my language and about my people, but to most I am just a boy from Tibet that was abandoned.

Please help me, I need clothes to survive this cold. I need a coat, some shirt, pants and underwear. I also need a hat, a scarf. Please send these things if you can.

I also need food and transportation, I need money for these things. Please donate to UNICEF so they can buy me what I need and bring it to me.

Thank you.
